

Safety Flash

March 05, 2015.

Safety Inspections.

Safety Statistics
First Aid Free Days: 85

 REMINDER

Remember, you are responsible for your own safety and that means doing ongoing and consistent informal checks at your worksite for anything that poses a risk to people or property.

Think Safe, Work Safe and Be Safe!!

Inspections are part of proper safety protocol. Because conditions and hazards on a site changes all the time, a worksite that was safe yesterday may present new hazards today. Make no mistakes, Inspections are not the same as hazard assessment. they are part of good safety program. An inspection is basically just an observation. Inspections are done by the company and the workers involved. Everyone shares the responsibility of inspections to assure that workplaces are kept safe and healthy.

What is inspection? An inspection is an observational tour of the workplace for the specific purpose of identifying hazards (unsafe acts and unsafe conditions), and determining the levels of compliance with established Safe Work Practices, Safe Job Procedures, and Company Rules. Once a job is underway, inspections are conducted on an ongoing basis to monitor the effectiveness of a health and safety program.

Who is responsible for safety inspection? Everyone has responsibility in making sure that inspections are carried out regularly and responsibly. As a worker, you are responsible for your own safety and that means doing ongoing and consistent informal checks at your worksite for anything that poses a risk to people or property.

Whose responsibility is it to ensure that inspections are carried out regularly and responsibly?

- a). Government Agencies, b). The employer, c). The worker
- d). It is a shared responsibility of workers, employer and the government.

To be continued.....

BE A ZERO HERO!

Every reasonable precaution should be taken to protect yourself and promote our ZERO ACCIDENTS culture.

Be Safe!

PLEASE PLAN TO HAVE A SAFE DAY!

Quote of the Day

"Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter." Safety Matter!

~Author Martin Luther.

Weather Forecast for Edmonton

	Mon. Mar. 02	Tue. Mar. 03	Wed. Mar. 04	Thu. Mar 05.	Fri. Mar. 06	Sat. Mar. 07

High	-8°C	-12°C	-4°C	4°C	-11°C	0°C
Low	-15°C	-19°C	-22°C	-7°C	-14°C	-16°C
Wind	NW 30 km/h	NW 20 km/h	S 15 km/h	W 15 km/h	N 15 km/h	W 20km/h